

Delahunt, William

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Sunday, September 23, 2001 9:44 AM
To: Delahunt, William
Subject: We must involve religious leaders

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
Scituate, MA 02066
[REDACTED]

Dear Representative Delahunt:

The efforts to bring down Osama bin Laden and his followers is a worthy effort and must be undertaken.

This action, however, should be only one piece of America's efforts. The President must call upon the world's religions, especially Islam, to STRONGLY speak out against these terrorist actions. They must show the Muslim followers that the killing of women, children and innocent civilians goes against the teachings of the Koran. They must convince their followers that these activities do not insure them an honorable place in the after-life for them or their families but, on the contrary, that it is blasphemy against the Koran's teachings and condemns them to Hell.

Once the general population sees this truth, the terrorists will be ostracized and their support will significantly dry up.

May God give us wisdom during this trying time.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]